

HISTORY LEADING TO 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF D-DAY, BOOK 2: MY JOURNEY THRU WORLD & FAMILY HISTORY LANDED AT OMAHA BEACH, 6/6/94

Michael B. Butler

www.50thDDay.com

A new history book from Michael B. Butler, History Leading to the 50th Anniversary of D-Day, Book 2, has just been released on Amazon and Barnes & Noble.com. This is the first of a two book set of history books wrapped around the author's excursions, taken to honor WWII veterans in his family, to the 50th Anniversaries of Pearl Harbor and D-Day.

Dedicated to 15 military/combat veterans in his family, from the Civil to Korean War, Book 2 centers on the European War and centuries before while Book 1 deals with the Pacific War and the fascinating history of that vast region. Each book ends with stories of his last minute excursions to each of the 50th Anniversaries and what he experienced during those major commemorations.

Pearl Harbor and D-Day, for the United States, represents the beginning and the beginning of the end of World War II, and thus these bookend 50th Anniversaries allowed Michael B. Butler to explore far and wide in his quest to encase them, as the book titles suggest, in relevant World & Family History. Each yielded a wealth of interesting experiences and set the foundation for this book series, which was originally going to be a single volume but was split up and expanded decades later.

Wanting to showcase the great historians who populate his own library, Butler sought to include history going back 500 years while remaining largely focused on World War II and those who participated in that world changing conflagration. His family includes combat Veterans that span nearly every aspect of the World War II; from bomber pilots to infantrymen, from Pearl Harbor Survivors to U.S. Navy sailors to armored and infantry soldiers to a communication specialist and a railroad technician.

Direct testimony from Combat Veterans is deployed to try and explain what is totally unexplainable, for unless one has been there it is impossible to understand. Five chapters were created to highlight the outfits and experiences of family members and one person who helped Michael Butler attend the 50th Anniversary of D-Day—WWII 8th Air Force Veteran P-47 fighter-bomber pilot Pat Murphy. Obscure materials, some many published right after the conflicts, were mined for use in creating these multi-faceted chapters.

300 images all of kinds populate the text; from maps to drawings to diagrams, from historical photographs to book covers, from combat photos to thumbnail portraits of those lost during various points in divisional and regimental histories. This gives the book wider scope by paying tribute those whose service and sacrifice should be recognized again and again.

For a media interviews or review copy of History Leading to the 50th Anniversary of D-Day, Book 2 contact Eric Blair Enterprises at 50thbooks@pm.me or 805-262-7718.

Regards,

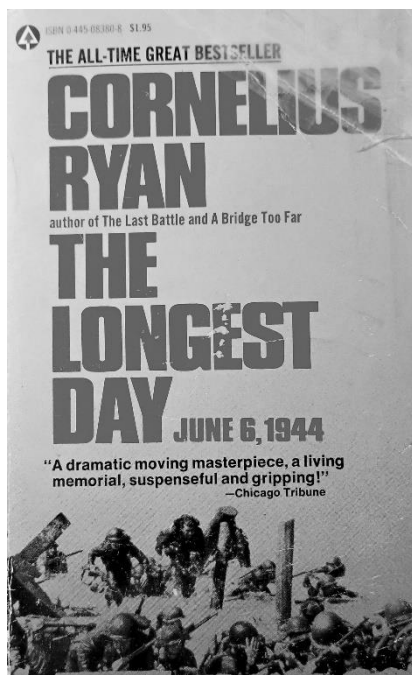

Eric Blair

HISTORY LEADING TO 50TH ANNIVERSARY
OF D-DAY, BOOK 2

MY JOURNEY THRU WORLD
& FAMILY HISTORY LANDED
AT OMAHA BEACH, 6/6/94

WRITTEN, PRODUCED, DESIGNED
& EDITED BY MICHAEL B. BUTLER
AUTHOR OF 'ROUND THE WORLD & ACROSS
RUSSIA IN 21 DAYS, 30 YEARS LATER' &
CO-AUTHOR OF 'WITHOUT REDEMPTION:
CREATION & DEEDS OF FREEWAY KILLER
BILL BONIN, HIS FIVE ACCOMPLICES
& HOW ONE WHO ESCAPED JUSTICE'

Dedicated to Those Who Went Before

www.50thDDay.com

Paternal Great-Great Grandfather James Edson Chapman
Civil War, Army, Lieutenant, Company G, 139th Illinois Infantry

Paternal Great-Great-Great Uncle George C. Chapman
Civil War, Army, 52nd Illinois, 'Lincoln Regiment,'
Wounded Battle of Atlanta, August 1864

Paternal Grandfather Harvey B. Butler
WWI, Army, Company E, 168th Iowa Infantry, 84th Brigade,
42nd Rainbow Div., Wounded Chateau Theirry, France, July 28, 1918

Paternal Great-Great Uncle Lewis Chapman
WWI, Army, Pilot

Maternal Great Uncle Henry Olivas

WWII, Europe, Army, 127th Ordnance Maintenance Battalion,
5th Armored Division, Third Army,
Utah Beach July 26, 1944, Normandy to Germany

Paternal Uncle Paul Harvey
WWII, Pacific, Navy, Pearl Harbor Survivor, USS Tangier,
Served in U.S. Navy Throughout the War

Maternal Great Uncle Tony Giuffrida
WWII, Pacific, Army, Infantry, 32nd Red Arrow Division,
New Guinea & Liberation of Philippines

Paternal Uncle Roy Larson
WWII, Europe, Army, B-17 Pilot, 303rd Bombardment Grp.,
359th Bombing Squadron, D-Day Airwars,
Lost over Hamm, Germany, April 22, 1944

Maternal Grandfather's Cousin Joseph Trabucco
WWII, Pacific, Navy, Lost on USS Liscome Bay, Nov. 24, 1943,
Name on Courts of the Missing, Nat. Pacific Cemetery, Hawaii

Maternal Great Uncle Sam Giuffrida
WWII, Europe, Army, 757th Railway Shop Battalion,
Normandy to Germany

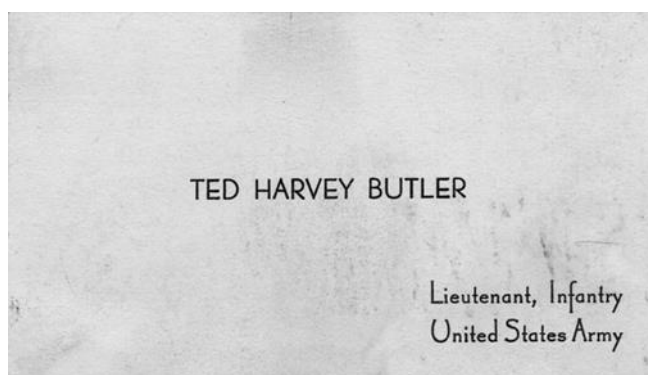

Paternal Great Uncle Paul V. Chapman
WWII, Europe, Army, 134th Nebraska Regiment,
35th Infantry Div., Third Army, Omaha Beach July 6, 1944,
Normandy to Germany, Served Feb. 1941 to Nov. 1945

Paternal Great Uncle Leland E. Chapman
WWII, Europe, Army, Technician Fifth Grade,
Company D, 38th Signal Battalion,
Normandy to Germany

Paternal Great Uncle Wilbur A. Chapman
WWII, Master Sgt., Army Air Force

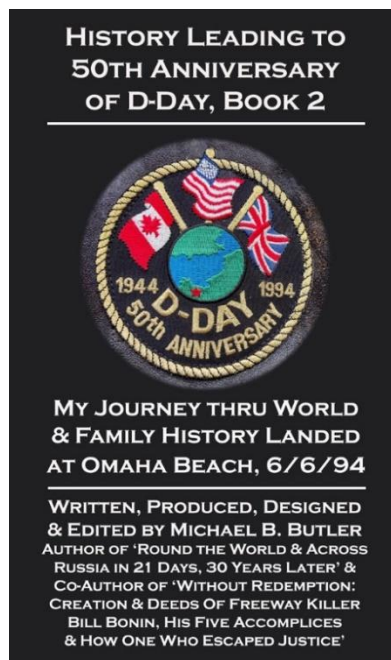

Paternal Great Uncle George Washington Chapman
WWII, Army, Infantry

Father Ted H. Butler
Korea, Army, Lieutenant, 1950-54,
On Far East Alert Numerous Times,
He Was Never Sent Over

Order of Battle

www.50thDDay.com

Acknowledgements	14
Preface: Motivation & A Bit of Family Military History	15
Introduction: Three Books, History & Destiny	19
Author Notes: Nature of the Two Books	21

PART ONE Beginnings in Brief

1	Destiny, Combat Conundrums & Sacrifice	24
2	America's Revolution & Ramifications	34
3	Arlington National Cemetery & Remembrance	42
4	Washington, Lincoln & Gettysburg	51
5	Shrines of Sacrifice & GI Correspondent Ernie Pyle	58

PART TWO Origins of European World War II

	September 1937 First Hand Snapshot of Nazi Germany & Lesson on Hitler's Mein Kampf from Berlin Diary by War Correspondent William Shirer	71
6	Historic Roads Lead to Clash of Titans 1939-45	76
7	Hitler's Readiness, History of Prussian-German General Staff & 1940 Western Campaign	91
8	With Hitler in the West —Photos from book by Hitler's Photographer Heinrich Hoffman of 1940 German Western Campaign	126
9	British Spymaster, His Family & European Royals	137
10	General Alfred C. Wedemeyer: Grand Strategist & Author of 1941 United States Victory Plan	154
11	Photos of Major Combatants & Commanders	162

PART THREE
Developments, Combatants, Resources & Battle of Britain

12	Perilous Summer of 1940, Krupp Family of Ruhr Region & Germany's Ancient Cultural Roots	175
13	Codebreaking, Radar, Organizations, Strategic Oil Supplies & Winston Churchill	182
14	Preparations for First Total Air Battle in History	199
15	Churchill's 'Their Finest Hour' Speech & The Battle of Britain	221

INTERMISSION I
Family War Memorabilia, Unit Histories & Tales of Combat

16	Family Photos & War Memorabilia	268
17	168th Iowa, 42nd Rainbow Division in WWI with Grandfather Harvey Butler, Douglas MacArthur & William Donovan	279
18	134th Nebraska, 35th Infantry Division, Patton's Third Army in WWII with Great Uncle Paul Chapman, Omaha Beach July 6, 1944, Normandy to Germany	331

PART FOUR
Atlantic Sea War & Russian Land War

19	Atlantic Ocean War Commences with Hostilities	369
20	Strategy & Politics Amidst the Fury of War	386
21	Hitler Shifts Ambitions East	401
22	America Enters & Russia Tries to Survive	422
23	Back to the Atlantic War	440
24	Turning Points at Stalingrad & Kursk-Orel Salient	448

INTERMISSION II
More Family Unit Histories & WWII Combat Ops

25	358th Bombing Squadron, Hell's Angels 303rd Bombardment Group., 8th Air Force in WWII with Uncle Roy Larson, B-17 Pilot, March-April 1944	465
26	5th Armored Victory Div., Patton's Third Army in WWII with Great Uncle Henry Olivas, Utah Beach July 26, 1944, Normandy to Germany	489

PART FIVE
Getting to the D-Day Landings

27	1944 View from English Channel & Moscow	526
28	Fighting in Eastern Mediterranean & North Africa	531
29	Harry Hopkins, Patton, Italian Campaign & D-Day	545
30	D-Day Planning, Allies, Personalities & Deceptions	560

PART SIX
D-Day Miracles Then & Plus 50 Years Courtesy
of My 50th D-Day Saviors Herbert Johnson,
Shelley Tokker and Wanda & Pat Murphy

31	SS Massacre at Oradour-sur-Glane, France Town is a Martyred Memorial to Sacrifice	576
32	President Reagan's 40th Pointe du Hoc D-Day Speech Transforms D-Day & Our World	580
33	A Long, Strange Journey for Another Yank	592
34	Day Before 50 Years Later & June 5, 1944, My 1st D-Day Savior Herbert Johnson's War Story	609
35	Setting the Stage for D-Day Landings with British Veteran & Historian Alexander McKee	646
36	D-Day Miracles Plus 50 Years from My 3rd Savior, Pat Murphy, Cherbourg Fighting with Ernie Pyle, Commanders & Planning	651
37	Pat Murphy's Auto-Bio P-47 War Story with 397th Fighter Squadron, 368th Fighter Group, 9th Air Force, Normandy to POW in Germany	674
38	Normandy Cemetery, My Curious Walk on Omaha Beach & The Main Ceremony Miracle	700

PART SEVEN
Epilogues & Afterwords

I	Truman, A-Bomb, Post-War & Post Cold War	737
II	1917-18 Russian Revolution	747
III	History of the German General Staff, 1657-1945 by Walter Goerlitz, Preface by Walter Millis	761

www.50thDDay.com
805-262-7718
50thbooks@pm.me

Michael B. Butler's second book, released in 2022, is Without Redemption: Creation & Deeds Freeway Killer Bill Bonin, His Five Accomplices & How One Who Escaped Justice. In 2024-26 three books are slated for release: Round the World & Across Russia in 21 Days, 30 Years Later and the two-book history set dedicated to 15 wartime military veterans, many who saw combat, from his family—History Leading to 50th Anniversary of Pearl Harbor, Book 1 and History Leading to 50th Anniversary of D-Day, Book 2.

History Leading to 50th Anniversary of D-Day, Book 2 available on Amazon in Print (ISBN: 979-8328241489) and Kindle (ASIN: B0F4GH8679).

EXCERPTS FROM HISTORY LEADING TO 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF D-DAY, BOOK 2: MY JOURNEY THRU WORLD & FAMILY HISTORY LANDED AT OMAHA BEACH, 6/6/94

www.50thDDay.com

About Ernie Pyle, WWII GI Correspondent:

The soldiers Patton referred to are the same ones GI Correspondent Ernie Pyle lived with and wrote about. Pyle's professional wanderings as a journalist and his tragic personal life, combined with keen observational abilities, granted him that rare skill to succinctly, and with feeling, express what the men and women in war thought, felt, hoped and feared. While in Normandy, in fall 1944, before deciding to cover the Pacific War, Pyle wrote about how emotionally and physically drained he and his fellow journalists had become.

Promise of the end only produced a weary feeling of relief, along with a haunting sense the odds were stacking up against him. Knowing his wife wanted him home, Ernie Pyle was unable to override the feeling that, if he did not go to the Pacific, he was simply deserting the men and women he respected, loved and admired. He felt obligated to convey their story as honestly and completely as possible. Well aware of how little the Home Front knew about the grinding physical and psychological realities of war, he doggedly pursued descriptions that presented the full horror to people he reasoned might never fully comprehend it anyway.

Germany in the Inter-War Years:

In addition, Seeckt resisted all pressure to use the army as an instrument to quell the domestic violence infecting Germany in the troubling post-war 1920s, surmising such actions would anger public opinion against an army he was preserving for the next conflict. German historian Walter Goerlitz, in The History of the German General Staff 1657-1945, noted that Seeckt insisted all officers remain apolitical, but he also stated that not being a counter-revolutionary did not mean officers were in favor of the republic, and indeed most saw democracy as their enemy.

A short diversion is required—Allied realization that Germany could enter into agreements without permission, such as the 1922 Rapallo Treaty with Soviet-Russia, led to the 1925 Locarno Conference in Switzerland. Reaffirming the Versailles alliances, when it was concluded France added an extra guarantee by an alliance with Czechoslovakia, which possessed a strong army and advanced industrial defense plants. What shocked many was that Germany was included in the Locarno conference as if they were an equal power, giving further prestige to Germany and eventually proving that Versailles and Locarno, without sustained vigilance and strength, were only worthless scribbles on onionskin.

About D-Day:

Seldom in history has the fate of so many living, and so many who might yet live, rested on the actions of a single day; seldom in history could the outcome of one battle mean the continued slaughter of countless millions in Death Camps whose cruelty is unrivaled in human history; seldom in history have immediate worldwide implications rested on the shoulders of a relatively small group; seldom in history has the government and civilian administrative machinery in democracies had to sustain such a massive industrial and military effort aimed at a single day's action; and seldom in history have such prayers been said for that day to arrive which, as long as people fight for freedom, will be remembered as D-Day.

www.50thDDay.com

805-262-7718

50thbooks@pm.me